The Forum Unveils New Website with Online Ticket Ordering

Rome, Ga. – May 17 – The Forum Civic Center has launched a redesigned website which now offers a complete online guide to events at the facility and the ability to order tickets online. Patrons can now choose a seat, pay for tickets by credit card and print their tickets out at home.

“We are proud to be able to offer this service to our customers for all public events,” said Forum Manager Brent Poplin. “This will cut down on wait time at the box office the day of the event and allow patrons to choose and purchase their seats quickly and efficiently from the comfort of their own home. We also hope to be able to attract more events to this area by offering event promoters this extra service.”

ForumEvents.org now features a new look and enhanced navigation, a complete planning guide for booking events, rotating banners on the home page promoting feature events, and convenient online ticket ordering. Ticket purchases online will be straightforward and easy. Simply click on the “Purchase Tickets” tab, choose the event, and the online ordering system will walk visitors through the process in a few simple steps. Patrons can choose to pick up their tickets at the box office, have them mailed or they can be printed at home.

“This is just the first step in a series of a technology upgrades and enhancements we will be adding to The Forum this year,” said Poplin. “We are now offering free wireless Internet service provided by Unilinc Networks and are working on the introduction of a cyber lounge for business meetings and conferences.”

The first events to have tickets sold online will be the Rome Renegades football games followed by Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus in June.
